Process & Concepts

Our core team consists of professionals with over a decade of experience in software engineering. Through the experience gained, we have built our own approach to dealing with the challenges of managing projects, by combining segments from Agile / Lean / Unified Process methodologies.

We apply the best practices from different development methodologies. Through fast iterative cycles, we aim to provide usability of the product already in the early iterations.

Dealing with the risks in the initial stages of development, we are planning and documenting project activities with the use of appropriate project tracking tools. Our customers are involved in all development activities, from the first day of the project.

We are developing solutions using following phases:
